Addvanze does not intentionally add any Conflict Minerals – Gold (Au), Tantalum (Ta), Tin (Sn) or Tungsten (W) or derivatives originating the Democratic Republic of the Congo or adjoining countries – to any of its formulations.

In the few raw materials used by Addvanze which contain any of these substances, it has been confirmed with our suppliers that these materials do not originate from a conflict zone.

No compositional tests have been carried out to exclude the presence of these elements. Depending on the type of raw materials used, they may be present in trace amounts in our formulations.

Kind Regards,
